THE RESERVE OF THE PARTY OF THE

ALEX ANDRIA.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette: Dear Sir :- Our community may more or less accurately, be descr bed as a business corporation; our property owners as the shareholder; the city council as their board of directors; the amount invested to local real estate as their capital; and our business as that of a promoter of enterprise and thrif'.

In that business we have keen, untir-In that business we have keen, uniting, never ceasing, never ending, judiciously advertised competition; and i behooves our charcholders to waten closely the management of their affairs and to promptly check any course of action which tends to prevent the accomplishment of their purpose, or to depreciate the value of their invested

How are we advertis ng? Hundreds, and sometimes thousands, of strangers visit and pars through our city in a single day. Each of these comes a travelling advertisemen; and as a matter of fact,—basing their judgment solely and very, improperly, upon the condition of our mubble streets—they the conditi n of our public streets—they loudly proclaim, in every quarter of the globe—by newspaper and magazine articles and by word of mouth—that we "floished." "decayed," "askeep" or are "quain," "as cient," "interesting as a relic of the past" and "unenterprising" Even the funny man at the Washington and other the-atres announces every evening to a delighted audience that we are "dead." Does such advertising pay? Does it assist us in earning dividends upon, or to incress; the value of our invested capital? Does it encourage enterprise, a mulate energy and pro-mote thrift? With such advertising can we wonder that enterprise will not come in and dwell among us? Does i not tend to prevert the accomplishment of the very purpose we have in

Our shareholders find that their individual holdings are gradully, but stead-ily, depreciating in value. When thrift ilv, depreciating in value. When thrift builds himself a home be finds that its market value is less than its ac usl cost. Why? Because the improve ments in the community as a whole do not keep pace with those of the indivi-dual shareholder. Are we not—as a community-pursning the course of the improvident farmer, who takes everysoil? Let each of our shareholders carefully study the above proposition, and I feel perfectly confident that he will naturally reach the conclusion that his individual interest in the community imperatively demands that the present method of advertising and the present insidious depre-ciation of the value of our real property must cease; and, further, that the only possible way to accomplish that purpose is to improve our streets. Yours truly,

JAMES BAYNE.

SATUKDAY,

BY ELEVATING THE QUALITY BY ELEVATING THE QUALITY of our coal we lower the price in economy of concumption. Consumers will find that it is cheaper to use our high grade Lee Coal, that has been screened and freed from elate and stone, than that of an inferior grade. It gives more heat, less ashes and burns longer than any other coal, and our prices are as low as any. Coal and Wood under cover.
